Welcome to Verona!

Verona is wonderful, would you like to learn more about it through an exploratory mission?

Let's start! From the Tourist Information Office let's go towards the church of San Fermo, where you will find the first clue which will lead you beyond the river Adige.

Once crossed the Ponte Navi, let's go on towards the Natural History Museum, where there is someone who welcomes you by sticking out his tongue: can you see him? Don't miss the mysterious Basilisk and the fish fossils of Bolca inside the Museum!

Let's go on along Lungadige Sanmicheli and take via Carducci towards Giardino Giusti.

Are you on the right way? Our clue at civic number 41 will give you the proof. Here we are, at Giardino Giusti. Before getting lost in the labyrinth, search our clue, you will not be disappointed! Even the great poet Goethe was so fascinated that he wrote about it in his famous verses.

After this marvellous visit let's go to the Archaeological Museum and Roman Theatre.

Along the walk somebody shows us the way: the statue of Paolo Veronese holding our clue in his hand. Can you guess which his job was? At Castelvecchio Museum you can find some of his paintings which are very important and known all over the world.

You are now at the Archaeological Museum, already halfway through your exploratory mission!

The city view from here is magnificent, as well as the remains of the Roman Theatre: it is still used nowadays for many summer shows. Could you find our clue? It is right at the entrance next to your feet.

Let's go to another wonderful part of the city, take the funicular and go up to Castel San Pietro. Now you become the commander: take your "crew" on the top of the ascent using the buttons of the funicular railway!

Now take time to stop and admire the city with its towers and the mountains in the distance...

You can choose the way to go down, are you still full of energy to face the staircase or do you prefer to take the funicular once again and let you be carried? The choice is yours: there are still three clues to be found!

Let's go on along the river Adige. The church of San Giorgio is near and there's something particular waiting for you. Think of the fact that at the beginning of the 19th century French and Austrian soldiers fought right here to obtain the control of the city, leaving quite clear traces!

Let's go back along the river Adige, the way is straight. Count the trees on the other side of the street. How many trees can you see? We counted 66, and you?

But be careful not to miss the ninth treasure!

A knight and his horse, accompanied by the "Vittoria alata" (the statue of the winged Victory), are looking at you from above: they remind us of a battle against the Austrian soldiers during the World War One.

Let's go on along the river Adige to reach the last destination: here an Austrian building is waiting for you. Are you able to read its name on the façade? Do you know which function this building had?

And now that your explorative mission is at its end, take a rest – you deserve it – enjoying a good ice cream!
